

Built probes (measured) vs the new printed tip (projected)

Projection carries the measured MCF sensitivity across by the modelled photon ratio; only that ratio is modelled, and both sides of it come from the same tracer.